

Bloomdesign is a multidisciplinary design Studio working mainly in the fields of web and print. The Studio was founded by Xavier Julià in summer 2003. Bloomdesign stands for straight and functional design solutions - and for that little something that makes things special and people smile. We think of our work as visual entertainment. Conceptional innovations and stunning design, on the highest technical level to focus on individual client needs. Bloomdesign is represented by a diverse, award-winning portfolio including web design, print media and full dome events for international clients.
